RE: City of Chattanooga 2nd Annual Community Survey Results

This report presents the results of our 2nd annual Community Survey. During June and July, we asked Chattanooga residents about their views on a variety of City services, and over 2,000 residents responded. In addition to reporting on citywide data, we report survey data specific to each of Chattanooga's nine City Council districts.

Most Chattanooga residents we surveyed felt positively about their city and neighborhoods. Chattanooga residents believe the city is a good place to live, work, raise a family and retire. Residents were less enthusiastic about the value of services for City taxes paid and the overall direction the City is taking. Most residents we surveyed had not participated in a community project or public meeting during the last 12 months. Overall, resident ratings of most City services were positive, though residents expressed less than favorable ratings of certain City services.

We sent the survey to 10,000 randomly-selected households, and 26 percent responded. We calculated the citywide survey accuracy to be within ± 1.93 percent, while accuracy by City Council district ranged from ± 5.2 to ± 6.75 percent. In comparing the demographic information provided by survey respondents to 2010 Census data, we found that our survey respondents are older and more educated than the population as a whole. We also found that females are over-represented and minorities are under-represented among those who returned our survey.

This report provides the public and policy makers with valuable information regarding resident satisfaction with City services. We encourage the Mayor, City Councilmembers, City department heads, RPA managers, and community leaders to study differences in community perceptions and to consider ways to improve services based on these results.

We want to thank the more than 2,000 Chattanooga residents who took the time to complete and return the survey. In addition, we want to thank the Electric Power Board, the City's mail room staff and the City's Geographic Information Systems unit for their assistance with this effort.

Summary

Chattanoogans have opinions about City of Chattanooga services from public safety to community development, parks, water, and streets. These opinions, and changes in these opinions over time, can be studied by city managers and reviewed by elected officials to find areas for improvement, identify programs with high public satisfaction, assess community needs, and assist in making decisions about current and future city services.

The Office of Internal Audit (OIA) conducted a survey of Chattanooga residents to gather their views of city services. This report provides an overview of perspectives expressed by the more than 2,000 residents who responded to our survey as well as results of our survey in detail. We anticipate this report to be of interest to the public, City Council, city managers, and the Regional Planning Agency. We also intend it to be used by residents to track the city's progress in many important areas. As this is the second year of our survey, we are unable to provide trends for these views and are limited to reporting side-by-side comparisons of 2012 and 2013 results. We tested to determine whether changes seen were statistically different, and we found no citywide results were meaningfully different from 2012. Future reports will include analysis of year-over-year trends.

Residents rating Chattanooga as a "very good" or "good" place to...

Overall, most Chattanoogaans love their city and neighborhoods, but they gave lower reviews of City government performance and mixed reviews of certain City services.

- Citywide, 88 percent of residents rated Chattanooga as a good or very good place to live. Satisfaction with Chattanooga as a place to work, raise children and retire were slightly lower but overall remained positive.
- Residents were less enthusiastic about the value of services for City taxes paid and the overall direction the City is taking, with 42 percent and 53 percent of respondents rating these aspects as very good or good.
- Overall satisfaction with fire and emergency medical services, police, and 9-1-1 services were positive in 2013. While residents felt safe in their neighborhoods, parks, and downtown during the day, residents reported feeling unsafe in parks and downtown at night. Resident feelings of nighttime safety varied by Council District with residents in Districts 8 and 9 reporting the lowest rates of safety.

- In 2013, 86 percent of residents indicated they had visited a City park, and 68 percent had visited their neighborhood park within the past 12 months. Neighborhood parks were generally rated positively. The highest rate of park visits – 26 percent report visiting their park either daily or weekly – was in District 2; the lowest rate of park visits was in District 6 at 10 percent.
 - The overwhelming majority of residents (82 percent) indicated they did not participate in Parks and Recreation activities within the past 12 months. Of those who did, programs were rated highly.
 - Overall, residents rated street lighting and cleanliness of City streets positively. City residents were less positive about the smoothness of City streets with only 33 percent indicating smoothness was good or very good. The highest positive ratings for smoothness were in Districts 2 and 6, with 39 and 40 percent (respectively) rating smoothness as good or very good. The lowest ratings for smoothness were in Districts 5 and 7 with only 27 percent rating smoothness as good or very good.
 - Less than half of residents rated pedestrian and cyclist safety positively. Residents were most concerned for cyclists, with 33 percent rating the safety of cyclists as bad or very bad on City streets.
 - Residents rated their city and neighborhood positively on livability and reported favorably on new commercial and residential developments in their neighborhoods.
 - 79 percent of residents who are business owners indicated Chattanooga is a very good or good place to do business.
 - While 61 percent of residents were not involved in a community project or did not attend a public meeting in the last 12 months, residents rated the city's efforts at welcoming citizen involvement as positive (43 percent) or neutral (32 percent).

This report contains highlights of survey results for these City service areas: public safety, public works, transportation, parks and recreation and community development.¹ In addition, we include a section explaining how we conducted the community survey and prepared the report. Complete survey data (including areas not highlighted within the report) begin on page 12.

Our analysis and this report represent only a fraction of the insights that may be obtained from the survey data. We have made the data tables available to the public on the City of Chattanooga website (select "Internal Audit" from the Department drop box, or in the address bar of your web browser, enter www.chattanooga.gov/internal-audit.) City and community leaders are encouraged to download the tables for analysis using various filters.

¹ It should be noted that emergency medical services and 9-1-1 are provided to City residents by Hamilton County. In addition, the following services are provided by third parties on behalf of the City of Chattanooga: bus services (CARTA) and animal control (McKamey Animal Care and Adoption Center).

Public Safety

OVERVIEW

Overall satisfaction with fire and emergency medical services, police, and 9-1-1 services were positive in 2013. While residents felt safe in their neighborhoods, parks, and downtown during the day, residents reported feeling unsafe in parks and downtown at night. Nighttime safety in neighborhoods varied by district but overall was positive.

Overall resident ratings of Public Safety services

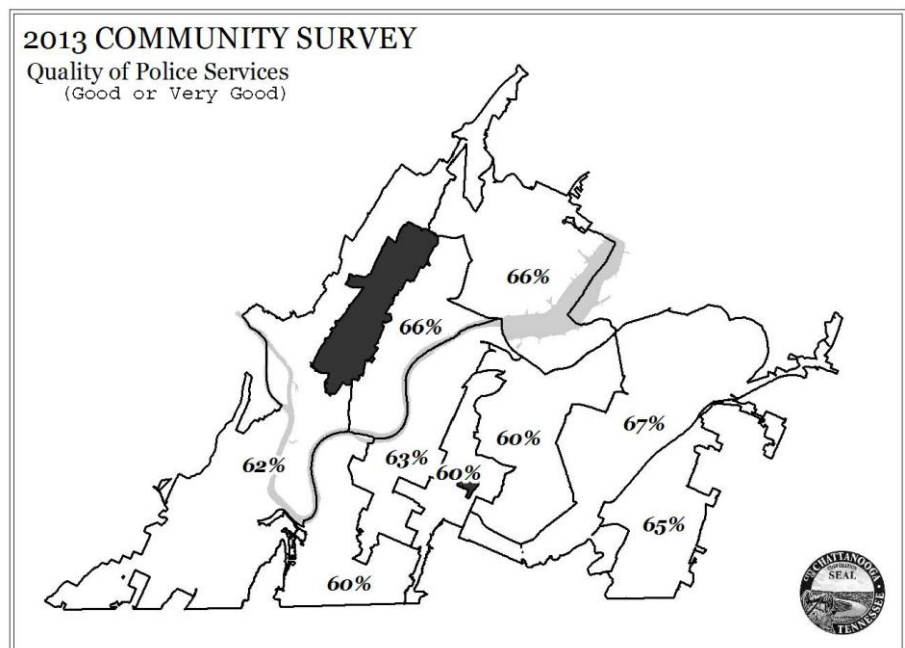

(percent very good or good)

	2013	2012
Police	63%	64%
Fire and EMS	90%	87%
9-1-1	87%	81%

Satisfaction with public safety services was favorable in 2013. Of those residents who used fire or emergency medical services within the past 12 months, 90 percent felt that the overall quality of service was very good or good. Residents were equally satisfied with speed of responses to their emergency. Also, among residents using 9-1-1 services within the past 12 months, satisfaction was high with the services received from the call-taker.

Ratings of police services varied by City Council District and were lower than that for Fire, EMS, and 9-1-1 services. Citywide, 63 percent of residents felt that the quality of police services was very good or good, and 58 percent of residents rated the conduct of police officers as very good or good. Police response times were rated lowest, with 47 percent of residents rating response times as very good or good.

Rating of safety during day as safe or very safe

(percent very good or good)

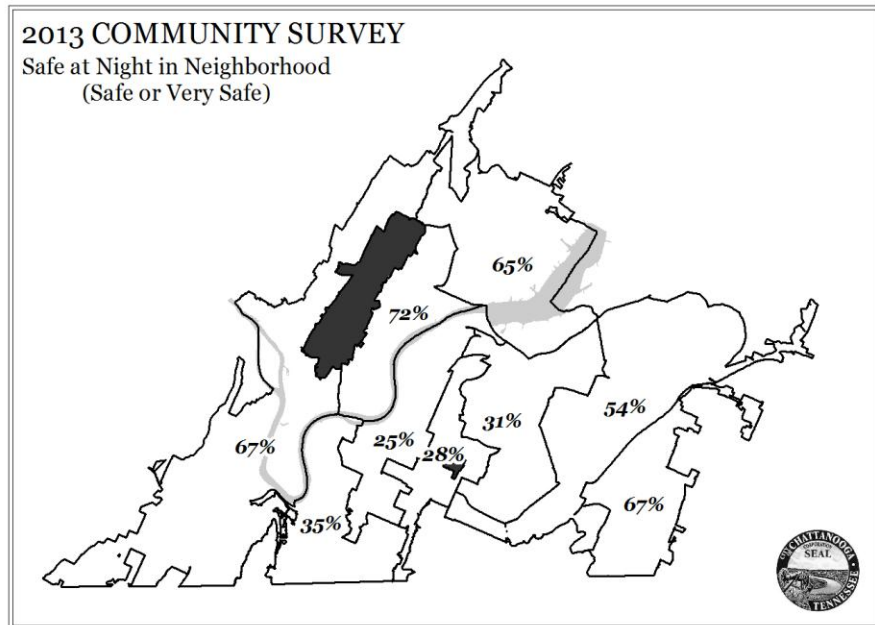

Rating of safety at night as safe or very safe

(percent very good or good)

Residents reported feeling safe in their neighborhoods, parks, and downtown during the day. Nighttime safety ratings were lower overall. Citywide, residents felt most unsafe downtown at night. In 2013, 50 percent of residents we surveyed indicated they felt “unsafe” or “very unsafe” walking alone at night downtown, 44 percent felt unsafe in their nearest park, and 31 percent felt unsafe in their neighborhoods.

Feelings of safety at night in neighborhoods varied among Council Districts. The highest rates of perceived nighttime safety were in City Council District 2, at 72 percent; City Council District 8 reported the lowest rates at 25 percent. Perceptions of safety at night correspond directly with resident reports of home and vehicle break-ins.

Public Works and Transportation

OVERVIEW

Resident satisfaction with Public Works services was mixed in 2013. The vast majority of residents rated satisfaction with sanitation services (garbage, yard waste, recycling) as very satisfied or somewhat satisfied. However, only about half of residents rated water quality and waste management services (sewer and storm drainage) positively.

Resident ratings of Public Works services

(percent very satisfied or somewhat satisfied)

	2013	2012
Garbage pick-up	89%	89%
Yard waste pick-up	73%	68%
Curbside recycling	69%	65%
Water quality of lakes and streams	55%	52%
Storm drainage	50%	49%
Sewer	56%	53%

Overall, residents rated street lighting and cleanliness of City streets positively. City residents were less positive about the smoothness of City streets. Traffic flow during non-peak hours was rated favorably by residents, while traffic flow during peak hours appeared to be a concern for residents—particularly in Districts 4, 5, and 9. Less than half of residents rated pedestrian and cyclist safety positively. Residents were most concerned for cyclists, with 33 percent rating the safety of cyclists as bad or very bad on City streets.

Resident ratings of traffic flow

(percent very good or good)

	2013	2012
During peak hours	37%	39%
During off-peak hours	70%	70%

Overall satisfaction with Public Works services was positive. Satisfaction with sanitation services was higher than for water quality and waste management services. 89 percent of residents who had an opinion were very satisfied or somewhat satisfied with garbage pick-up, 73 percent were very satisfied or somewhat satisfied with yard waste pick-up, and 69 percent were very satisfied or somewhat satisfied with curbside recycling.

Half of residents were satisfied with storm drainage, and slightly more than half of residents felt positively about the water quality of lakes and streams and the city's sewer system.

Residents rated traffic flow on major streets and thoroughfares during off-peak hours positively in 2013 (70 percent reported very good or good traffic flow). Satisfaction with traffic flow during non-peak hours was significantly lower citywide – at 37 percent positive. Variation existed between Council Districts, with District 8 being most satisfied with traffic flow during peak hours – 44 percent – and Districts 4 and 5 reporting lowest satisfaction at 22 and 31 percent reporting very good or good traffic flow respectively.

While the majority of City residents – 51 percent - rated the cleanliness of City streets favorably, residents rated the smoothness of City streets less favorably. 33 percent of residents indicated the smoothness was very good or good, while 42 percent rated it as bad or very bad.

Resident ratings of street conditions

(percent very good or good)

	2013	2012
Smoothness of City streets	33%	34%
Cleanliness of City streets	51%	51%
Street lighting	62%	62%

In 2013, less than half of residents rated pedestrian and cyclist safety positively. While 39 percent of residents felt the safety of pedestrians was very good or good, 28 percent felt similarly about the safety of bicyclists. Citizens expressed particular concern for the safety of bicyclists with 33 percent rating cyclist safety as bad or very bad on City streets.

Parks and Recreation

OVERVIEW

In 2013, 86 percent of residents indicated they visited a City park, and 68 percent visited their neighborhood park within the past 12 months. Neighborhood parks were generally rated positively. The overwhelming majority of residents (82 percent) indicated they did not participate in Parks and Recreation activities within the past 12 months. Of those who did, the programs were rated highly.

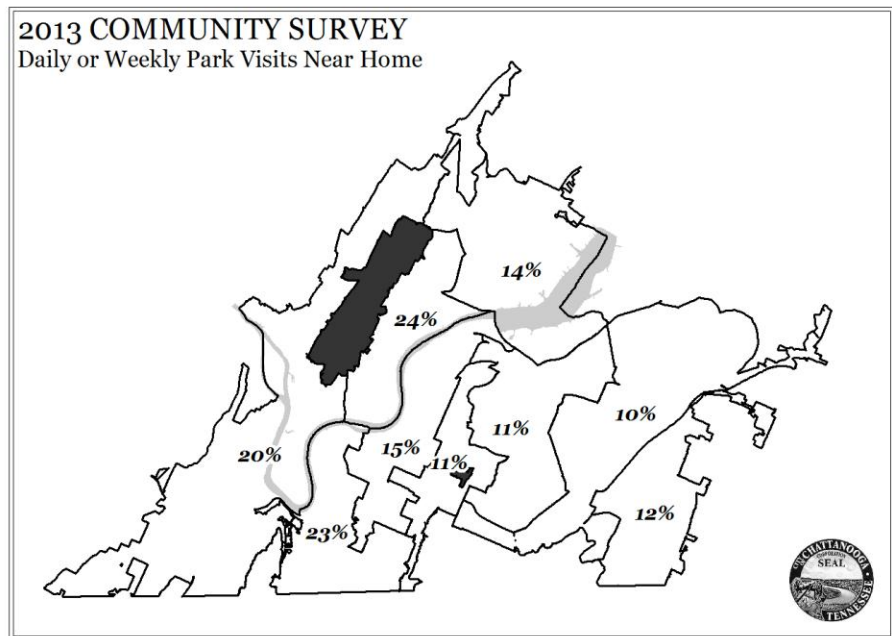

Use of Parks and Recreation services/facilities

(within past 12 months)

	2013	2012
Participated in Parks and Recreation activity	18%	15%
Visited any City park	76%	77%
Visited your neighborhood park	69%	67%

ANALYSIS

Citywide, 17 percent of residents reported visiting a City park, and 15 percent reported visiting their neighborhood park on a daily or weekly basis. Utilization of neighborhood parks varies significantly among the nine Council Districts. The highest rate of regular park visits – 24 percent - was reported by residents in City Council District 2; the lowest, at 10 percent, was reported by residents in City Council District 6. Utilization corresponded with ratings of park quality in these areas.

Of residents who registered an opinion, Chattanoogaans rated the quality of park grounds, facilities, and playgrounds near their homes favorably in 2013. 80 percent reported well-maintained landscaping, 76 percent reported well-maintained facilities, and 77 percent reported well-maintained playgrounds.

Resident ratings of neighborhood park qualities

(percent very good or good)

The overwhelming majority of residents (82 percent) indicated they did not participate in a Parks and Recreation activity within the past 12 months. Participation varied by City Council District, with highest participation in District 9 (26 percent) and the lowest participation in Districts 3 and 4 (13 percent). As a result of the low utilization, many indicated they did not know about the affordability, variety and quality of instruction of the City’s recreation programs, classes and events held at community centers, pools, or sports facilities. However, residents whose household participated in a city recreation activity had more positive feeling about the affordability, variety, and quality of instruction than those who did not participate. Of those who participated and expressed an opinion, 80 percent indicated affordability of programs as very good or good, 72 percent rated the variety as very good or good, and 71 percent rated the quality of instruction as very good or good.

Economic and Community Development

OVERVIEW

Overall satisfaction with community development was positive in 2013. Residents rated their city and neighborhood positively on livability and reported favorably on new commercial and residential developments in their neighborhoods. Business owners generally indicated Chattanooga is a good place to do business.

Resident ratings of livability

(percent very good or good)

	2013	2012
City livability	88%	87%
Neighborhood livability	80%	80%

ANALYSIS

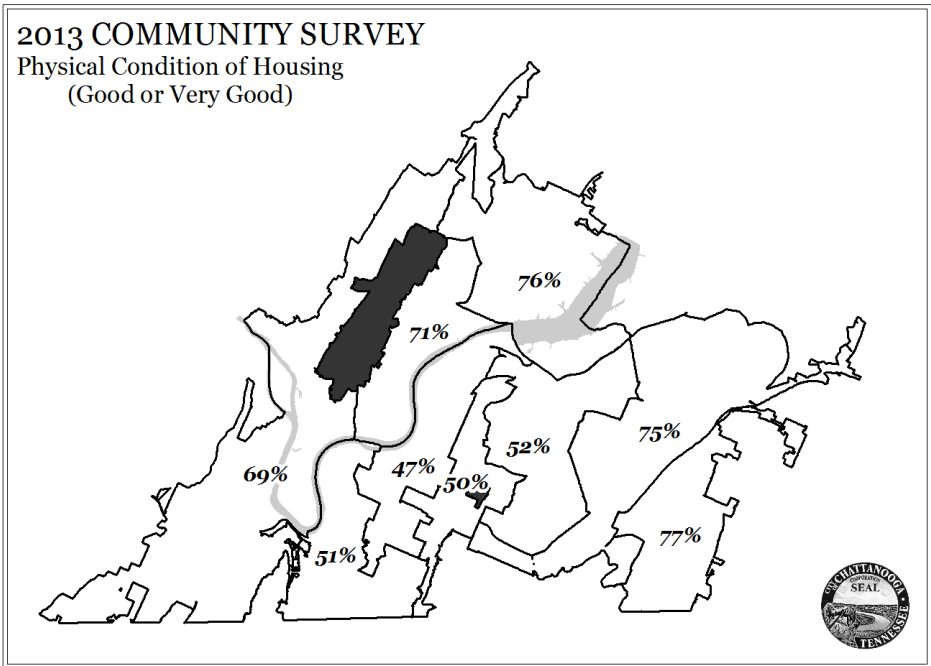

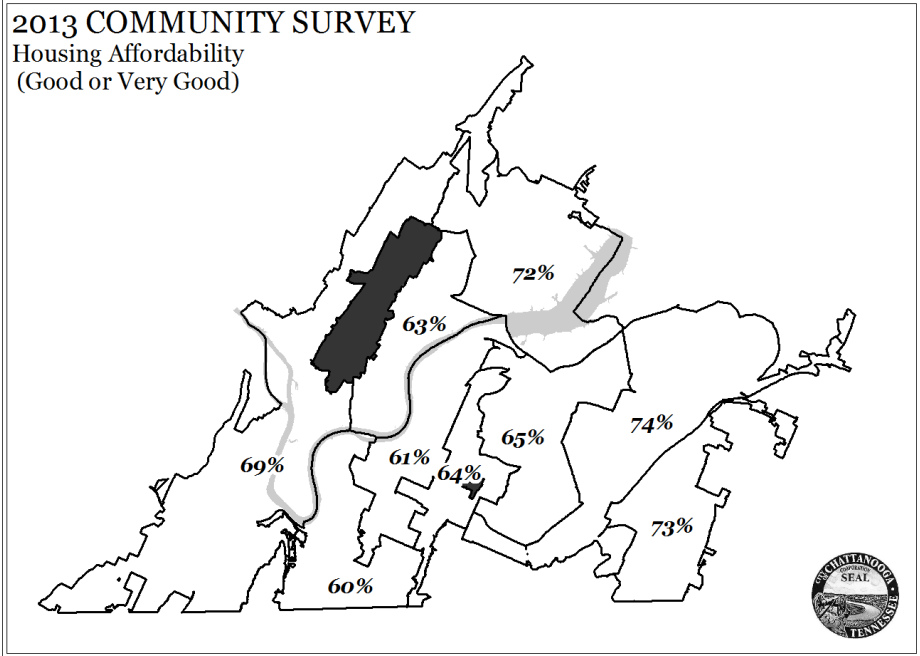

Citywide, 88 percent of residents felt positively about their city's livability with 80 percent feeling positively about their neighborhood's livability. Citywide, residents felt more positively about access to shopping and services (72 percent) and closeness of parks (62 percent) than their ability to walk to public transit (43 percent), availability of sidewalks (35 percent) or on-street parking (35 percent). Resident feelings about aspects of neighborhood livability varied by Council District:

Neighborhood livability factors

(percent very good or good)

Council District	Close to parks	Close to transit	Access to shopping	Sidewalk availability	On-street parking
1	65%	13%	68%	40%	30%
2	76%	54%	78%	40%	49%
3	65%	19%	85%	20%	28%
4	71%	24%	93%	36%	32%
5	50%	48%	63%	14%	25%
6	54%	45%	89%	26%	33%
7	67%	75%	66%	61%	46%
8	59%	67%	38%	58%	43%
9	46%	64%	49%	39%	33%

Residents rated housing affordability in their neighborhood positively in 2013 (67 percent). 65 percent of residents felt positively about the physical condition of housing in neighborhoods. Ratings of housing condition varied widely by Council District, with Districts 3, 4, and 6 reporting the highest ratings – 76, 77, and 75 percent of residents responding positively – and District 8 reporting the lowest ratings at 47 percent.

In 2013, 30 percent of residents reported new commercial developments in their neighborhoods, and of those, 82 percent felt positively about the attractiveness of the development, and 60 percent indicated the additions were an improvement to their neighborhood as a place to live. Similarly, 24 percent of residents indicated a new residential development had occurred in their neighborhood within the past 12 months. Of those, 78 percent rated favorably the attractiveness of the development, and 63 percent favorably reported the development as an improvement to their neighborhood.

While 61 percent of residents were not involved in a community project or did not attend a public meeting in the last 12 months, the vast majority of residents rated the City's efforts at welcoming citizen involvement as positive (43 percent) or neutral (32 percent).

79 percent of residents who reported owning a business rated Chattanooga as a good or very good place to do business in 2013.

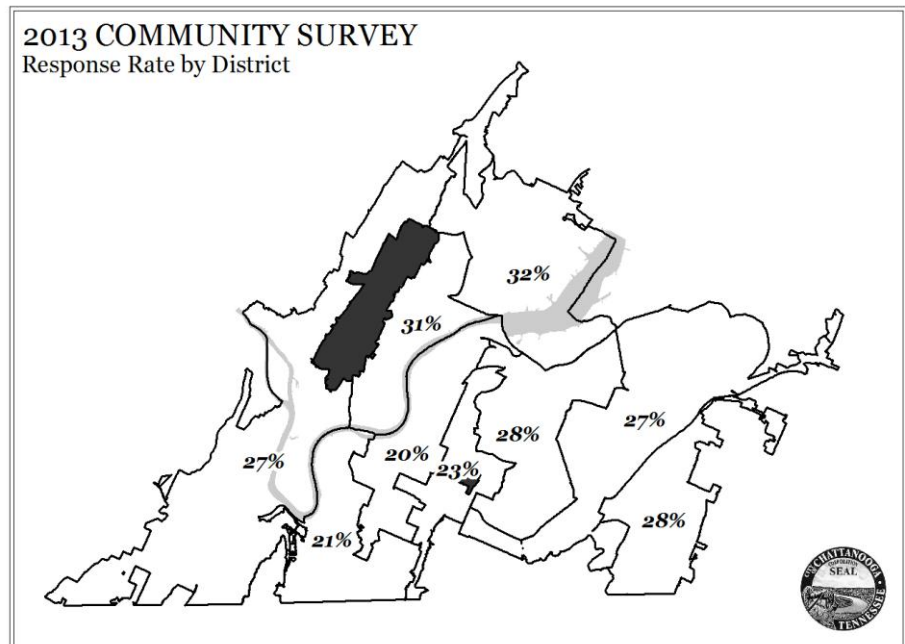

Survey Methodology

The Office of Internal Audit's Community Survey was conducted for the second time in June and July 2013. Questions on the survey request residents' views of satisfaction with services the City of Chattanooga provides. The results are intended to inform the public as well as to help City leaders better manage City services.

The survey was mailed to randomly-selected (city resident) addresses, with a letter from the City Auditor explaining the purpose of the survey and how to complete it. Survey responses are anonymous.

Response Rate

In June 2013, we mailed 10,000 introductory postcards and surveys to households representing each of the city's nine City Council Districts. One week after the survey was sent, we sent a reminder postcard. There were 627 introductory postcards returned to us as undeliverable (due to vacant addresses, etc.), leaving a total of 9,373 useable addresses for our response rate calculation. We received 2,479 completed surveys, resulting in a citywide response rate of 26 percent.

Survey Reliability

The citywide survey margin of error, at the conventional 95 percent confidence level, is ± 1.93 percent based on the 2,479 returns. Within each of the nine City Council Districts, the margin of error ranges from ± 5.2 to ± 6.75 percent.

Representativeness of Respondents

We compared demographic information supplied by respondents to 2010 Census data in order to assess how closely our sample matched official census demographics. On a citywide level, our survey respondents are older and more educated than the population as a whole. We found that females are over-represented and minorities are under-represented among our respondents.

Survey Analysis

In conducting this survey, we reviewed data by the City service areas of Public Safety, Public Works, Parks and Recreation, and Community Development. We are unable to provide trend analysis for the opinions expressed in the second year; however, we have provided context by supplying 2012 results alongside 2013 results. In future years, we will report statistically significant changes in citizen perceptions of City services.

In the table of survey results, the number of total respondents to each question is shown in parentheses. Due to rounding, percentages may not add to 100, and City Council district totals may not add to the City total. Figures reported in the text of our report may differ from the table due to exclusion of "Don't Know" responses for certain questions.

Survey Comments

The 2013 Community Survey was sent to a random sample of 10,000 city residents. To help keep respondent identities anonymous and maintain long-term consistency, OIA designed the survey without a specific section for written comments. However, respondents wrote 105 comments on the survey form. The majority of these comments addressed perspectives on overall government, condition and safety of streets, the brush-pick up policy, and specific issues with city services. We provided the detailed comments to City Administration for review.

Residents with comments, concerns, or complaints are encouraged to contact City of Chattanooga departments through 3-1-1. Also, City department contact information can be found on the City of Chattanooga website: www.chattanooga.gov. Alternatively, citizens are welcome to attend and provide comments during City Council meetings on Tuesday evenings.

Audit Standards

The 2013 Community Survey was conducted as a special project initiated by OIA. This was not a performance audit conducted in accordance with generally accepted government auditing standards.

Supplemental Information
